

X. Next Steps

- Learning from this course, I feel that data analysis could save children whose problems are invisible in an appearance.
- Establishing facilities for children may not be a sole solution and establishing a system using data analysis could be an option.